

Peculiarities:

This beautifully red and white colored shrimp from Argentina is very tasty
The fishery itself is divided in an on-shore and off-shore fishery. Both fisheries are engaged in a Fishery Improvement Project.

Commercial name:

Argentine red shrimp

Scientific name:

Pleoticus muelleri

Family:

Solenoceridae

Catch area:

Distribution from Brazil to Argentina - FAO Southwest Atlantic

Fishing method:

Trawling

Catch season:

Almost whole year, depending on area

Estimated volume/year:

Available as:

HOSO, HLSO (easy peel), peeled deveined
Raw

Available sizes:

HOSO: 10/20, 20/30, 30/40 pcs/kg, HLSO: 30/55, 56/88
pcs/kg, PD: 40/70, 70/90 pcs/kg

Sustainability details:

Both, deep sea and coastal fisheries are in the implementation phase of a FIP (Fishery Improvement Project). The stock is healthy, minimal by-catch and improved fishery management is being implemented.

